

SENATE WILL NOT DISCUSS WILSON'S PEACE ADDRESS

BARUCH BARES WALL STREET ROMANCE TO PROBERS

RESOLUTION ASKING DEBATE IS TABLED BY VOTE OF 38-30

Washington, D. C., Jan. 30.—The senate will not discuss the president's recent address to that body on the subject of a league to enforce peace.

Senator Cummins' resolution asking debate, was this afternoon tabled by a vote of 38 to 30 after a day of "preliminary debate."

One Democrat, Senator Martine, of New Jersey, voted against ending the debate.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 30.—and that a world compact for the preservation of peace and the diminution of armaments so conditioned that this country can with honor and national safety subscribe to its terms and join in its enforcement, may be entered into by all the great nations of the earth; as suggested in the address of the president before the senate on January 22, 1917, the senate nevertheless regrets that it is unable to agree with the president, either on the major proposition that the peace must be a peace without victory, or the many other matters which the president suggests as conditions precedent to the entrance of this country into such a compact; but no matter how this war may end, this country, deeply impressed with its slaughter, its devastation and its baneful influence on civilization and progress, should stand ready at all times, irrespective of the terms of peace which the necessity of any belligerent may compel it to accept, to exercise its influence and to act jointly with other world powers to strengthen the bonds of international comity and good will, and to lend its moral and physical support to the end that no such war may ever again blacken the earth."

The resolution follows: "Resolved, that it is the sense of the United States that the address of the president of the United States delivered to the senate on the twenty-second day of January, 1917, does not propose the abolition or limitation of the Monroe doctrine of America in its effect or application to any part of the western hemisphere, nor does it propose to send the army or navy of the United States or any military or naval power of the United States to any foreign territory, except when necessary to preserve the peace of the United States or to protect the just rights of America or an American where the same is assailed."

Senator McCumber, Republican, followed Lewis' action by offering a resolution endorsing the president's wish for any early peace among the European nations, but not agreeing with him in the "peace without victory" phase of the message.

Senator McCumber's resolution follows:

"Resolved, that while the senate joins with the president in the earnest hope for a speedy termination of the war, now devastating the greater portion of the earth, that such war may be brought to an end without crushing any or the great peoples engaged therein,

All Papers In Philadelphia Are 2 Cents

Philadelphia, Jan. 30.—Following the lead set by the Public Ledger two years ago, all of the Philadelphia daily newspapers, both morning and evening, made their appearance on the streets today at two cents a copy instead of one cent. It is predicted that the daily one cent paper has passed in Philadelphia, never to return. The increased and increasing cost of white print paper, as well as the additional cost of all materials entering into the production of a newspaper, are the reasons ascribed in several announcements of the advance in newspaper price by the papers. The morning papers, North American, Press, Inquirer and Record, each bore the legend "Two Cents" in large type when they appeared this morning, as well as did the early editions of the Evening Ledger, Evening Bulletin and Evening Telegraph. In addition the Evening Bulletin printed a large "2" in the right hand corner of the front page. Rumor has it that the Press and Evening Telegraph are soon to combine, the former as morning edition and the latter as evening, because of the agreement made by the publishers in the advance to two cents.

Phone Girl "Puts One Over" On "Dear Broadway"

Miss Louise Sachem.

New York, Jan. 30.—Louise Sachem, Kansas City phone girl "who bunked Broadway" and made it believe she was "the Queen of Alaska," is going to "get a job as a plug pusher" and leave the "white lights" since "Dad spilled the beans."

YES! HE GETS WHAT'S LEFT

New York, Jan. 30.—Under court order, Joseph G. Bassman, earning $10 a week, must support his eleven children and pay his wife $4 a week. All the rest of his salary goes to himself. The court held that Bassman could not excuse non-support on the grounds of poverty and ruled that the man was responsible for the size of the family and its support.

Entitled To His Job

Columbus, O., Jan. 30.—Ohio supreme court held today that William Brittain, former drug inspector for the state agricultural department is entitled to his $1,200 job despite the fact that the agricultural board last June fired him. Brittain claimed that he was fired without legal cause and was not given the right to be heard. The board gave as its reason for dismissing him that he was a professor in the Queen City College of Pharmacy and consequently was giving only part time to state work.

BRITISH SQUADRON ORDERED INTO WATERS ADJACENT TO NEW YORK

New York, Jan. 30.—The entire North Atlantic squadron of the British navy has been ordered into waters adjacent to New York, it was authoritatively stated here today. Reports of steamship masters brought to this port and taken to Halifax caused the issuance of orders to the squadron to search for a German raider.

From sources close to the British consulate it was learned "New York harbor waters" might mean any spot on the Atlantic within 700 miles of New York, giving color to reports of a German commerce destroyer 700 miles off Sandy Hook.

ELOPEMENT, SECRET MARRIAGE, POISONING SELF-ADMINISTERED, FLIGHT OF HUSBAND, DEATH—ALL IN TWENTY DAYS

Cincinnati, O., Jan. 30.—Ethel Lang Duncan answered the call of love and it led her straightway to the end of love, which was for her the end of life. And she was only 19.

An elopement, a secret ceremony, hickloride of mercury poisoning, self-administered, the flight of her husband following an embezzlement charge, a half-hearted fight for life, death—all in twenty days.

She was married January 10 to Charles Duncan, Jr. She died at Bethesda hospital today.

Duncan, who was cashier of the A. H. Pugh Printing Company, disappeared Saturday.

A warrant charging embezzlement of $500 was sworn out for his arrest late yesterday. Ethel Lang married Duncan against her mother's wishes. She took poison last Tuesday but died without telling why she wanted to end her life. Her husband visited her daily at the hospital until the day of his disappearance.

13 More Vote Sellers Enter Pleas Of Guilty

Eight of these were inmates of the county infirmary arrested earlier in the day. All of them had voted at the last election in one precinct of the Sixth ward. The number of vote sellers who have confessed is now forty.

Fletcher Goes To Mexico 'Soon'

Washington, D. C., Jan. 30.—United States Ambassador Fletcher will be sent to his post in Mexico City "very soon," it was officially learned today. This official recognition of the Carranza regime marks the second step in President Wilson's new policy toward Mexico. The first was withdrawal of General Pershing's army.

Mary Garden To Enter Movies

New York, Jan. 30.—Mary Garden has succumbed to the movies. She's going to Paris next week to get her costumes and expects to be back in film land in about six weeks. No contract price announced so far.

FOOTLIGHTS LURE DIVINE'S DAUGHTER

Miss Blanche Parks.

The lure of the footlights was too strong for this preacher's daughter to resist. She ran away from home and got a job in the chorus of a big New York musical comedy success. Returning in the off season, she earned the parental blessing. Then her two sisters, Marion and Evelyn, ran away and also joined the chorus. They likewise were eventually forgiven.

Village Dry, Says Court

Columbus, O., Jan. 30.—The supreme court in an opinion handed down today ruled the village of Richmond, Union county, was dry by five votes, as a result of a local option election held in January, 1915. The election wrangle arose over five ballots which were marked just below the line designated "wet." This negligence by the voters in not placing their marks opposite the propositions involved, the supreme court held, invalidated the ballots.

Committee Fails To Strike Lead Which Would Reveal Leak Thru German Circles

New York, Jan. 30.—The house investigating committee today in an apparent effort to find a possible note leak trail leading to German Ambassador Von Bernstorff or other "German circles" failed to open up any lead which would reveal a leak through German circles, but Bernard Baruch, Wall street plunger, spilled more colorful Wall street romance than all other witnesses combined.

Baruch grabbed the "hunch" to sell out of the air, he said, figuring that once the peace question was opened it would hang over the market and business world as a bear factor for weeks. He coolly told of hiring a special train to take him to Washington on December 6, in order to get there an hour ahead of the regular schedule. He wanted to be sure to be on time for an engagement at the office of the secretary of war with the National Defense Advisory Council.

Baruch denied having any advance information on the Wilson peace message and regretted it. Lacking such information he bought 17,900 shares the day before the note was published, when he should have sold, he said.

"Was this a large dealing?" "Well, I've done larger," he said. "I've been short this amount often."

Baruch denied any communication with Secretary Tamm during the period under investigation. Seeking Trail Leading To Von Bernstorff

Making an apparent effort to find a possible note leak trail leading to German Ambassador Von Bernstorff or other "German circles," the house investigating committee today put Archibald S. White, the envoy's friend, again on the grill.

But the committee got into details and negation.

White, associate of Bernstorff, Thomas W. Lawson and other diplomatic and financial lights, denied having any advance information

A Severe Earthquake Shock Is Recorded

Cleveland, O., Jan. 30.—The seismograph at St. Ignace last night recorded "the most severe earthquake shock in two years," it was announced today. The tremor began at 10:10 p. m., reached its maximum at 10:25 and ceased recording at 11:30 p. m., announced Father Odenbach. He said the quake apparently was about 7,000 or 8,000 kilometers distant, which, he said, might place it in Europe or Asia.

Senate Committee Favors Advancement of Cary T. Grayson

Washington, D. C., Jan. 30.—By a strict party vote the senate naval committee today favored the nomination of Lieutenant Commander Cary T. Grayson, President Wilson's personal physician, and golfing companion to be promoted one hundred grades or more to the rank of rear admiral. A fight on the senate floor is believed certain.

REVIVALS

U. B. CHURCH

What promises to be one of the best revivals in the history of the church started Sunday at the U. B. church. The first half hour of the meetings is to be devoted to spirited singing led by a large chorus choir. Meeting each night except Saturday, at 7:30.

Last night the true revival spirit was prevalent during the entire service. The effect of the sermon and an earnest impassioned prayer moved nearly all to tears during the latter part of the meeting.

"Repentance After Conversion" was the subject of the pastor, Rev. Barnegrove, last night. As the title indicates it was a sermon intended primarily for the confessed believer. Parts of the sermon follow:

"We can't worship God without sacrifice. But, you say, how can we sacrifice? By going before God with a broken and a contrite heart. To man a broken heart is of no more use than a broken boat. The living in the gutter; but God will never, never despise a broken heart."

"Act on a feeling of unimportance. If I might be a door mat on which the saints of God might wipe their feet, give me that lowly place."

"We take too much time to take hold of the shadows while the eternal realities slip past us every day."

"Sometimes I think we are all hypocrites. We pretend, preacher and parishioner, that we have more faith than we really have. I once knew a horse trader who would utter some of the strongest and loudest prayers offered and then would go out and cheat his neighbors. One day when he was called on to pray, one young man said to another, 'Now, listen to that old hypocrite pray.' But the old man prayed that he was hypocritical, that he had been cheating his neighbors, and then, because of his true repentance God forgave him. As a result the two young men were led to Christ."

"When a heart is broken you can tell what's in it. There is no concealment, no hiding anything from God, no trying to cover up any sin. Be yourselves. I would like for every member of the church to be just what he is. If you are not right with God don't act like you are. Why can't we be honest with ourselves and with God and get rid of that gnawing, miserable feeling in our hearts. Why I knew a preacher that preached twenty years and then got converted in a cemetery."

"The sacrifice we are to offer to God is sincerely, a broken and a contrite heart. How? First let us repent for sinning against a just, a good, gracious God. When I did not know God I thought sin was a trifle, but when, through the operation of the Holy Ghost I came to see God, I saw sin in all its hideousness."

"Whenever the law says 'Thou shalt not' it should not be hard for us. It means there is danger that way, there's a precipice there. When it says 'Thou shalt' remember that way is a way of safety."

"The worst crime ever committed was the crucifixion of the Savior. Oh the wretches who did that. Where are they? Here are the hands that did it—my hands. My sin drove the nails in the cross."

"The Holy Ghost convicts of sin. You have felt a strong sense of 'ought.' It's the Holy Ghost trying to lead you. It says keep as far away from evil places as possible. Yet we just nip around these places and sin against the Holy Ghost."

MANLY CHURCH

"Blue Monday" at Manly was a time of great inspiration and renewal of interest. A good crowd was present and all joined heartily in the song service. Following was a time of testimony and praise, and many told of new inspiration and greater determination to make their lives count for Jesus Christ. Two persons are to be pitied—but remember that neuralgia torture and pain is the easiest thing in the world to stop. Please don't continue to suffer; it's so needless. Get from your druggist the small trial bottle of "St. Jacobs' Oil." Pour a little in your hand and gently rub the "tender nerve" or sore spot and instantly—yes, immediately—all pain, ache and soreness is gone.

"St. Jacobs' Oil" conquers pain—it is perfectly harmless and doesn't burn or discolor the skin. Nothing else gives relief so quickly. It never fails to stop neuralgia pain instantly, whether in the neck, head or any part of the body. Don't suffer!

Mrs. Fullerton Of Wheelersburg Pays Tribute

Sends Son To Fisher & Streich With Telling New Nerv. Worth Endorsement.

Below the suffering reader will find the latest neighborhood statement in behalf of the famous family tonic which this old reliable drug store sells exclusively in Portsmouth.

"I can cheerfully recommend Nerv-Worth. It has done more than all the other medicines I have taken. My stomach and kidneys are much improved."

(Mrs.) R. R. FULLERTON, Wheelersburg. When the son delivered this letter he stated that Mrs. Fullerton was well pleased with Nerv-Worth and will still continue to take it. Your dollar back at the Fisher & Streich Pharmacy if Nerv-Worth does not benefit you.

accepted Christ as their Savior and announced their determination to live for Him from this time. Every body sang, shook hands and forgot all about "Blue Monday."

Dr. Grimes preached from the text, "I thought on my ways, and turned my feet unto thy testimonies. I made haste and delayed not to keep thy commandments."—Psalm 119:60-63. He said:

"A noted Scotch evangelist once said that this is the Old Testament putting of the New Testament parable of the prodigal son. This is an individual's experience, and it is a good way for everybody to proceed. Note what this one did:

"First, I thought on my ways. Next to the word 'God,' I thought of the biggest words in the language. All the universe is divided into two parts, that which is I, and that which is not I, and we can understand neither in all its fullness of meaning. We must deal with the individual. Anything that tries to make a good world without dealing with the individual is doomed to failure. We cannot save the people as a mass."

"There are reasons why we ought to think on our ways: (1) Every way has direction and destination. Every act of mind, body or soul links up with that which was and that which will be. The beginning of a wrong way appears innocent. Let us consider where our way will end."

"(2) Every way has influence. By the strong, though invisible, cords of influence we pull others. Are we pulling them to the right or to the wrong?"

"(3) Every act of life's way has a moral value."

"Second, 'Turned my feet.' Thinking will do us no good unless we turn our feet. We must not only think and dream, but we must act. We should not merely desire, we should do."

"Third, 'made haste.' We ought to make haste to find the Lord. One reason we should haste is because at longest we have only a short time to stay here. And more important than that, we ought to spend the remainder of our days in substantial service. Christ will save us any time, but it isn't fair to spend our life in sin and then offer Him the snailgalls, as it were, and ask Him to save us. It should be our delight to do His will."

Notes

Services each evening at 7:15. Prayer meetings as usual at 6:45. If you want to hear the gospel of Jesus Christ presented in an earnest, practical, straight-forward way, attend these meetings.

We feel that this is to be a time of yet greater things. The Spirit of God is at work and folks are going to be saved. You will miss a wonderful blessing if you don't come. Everybody welcome at Manly.

How To Relieve Catarrhal Deafness or Head Noises

If you have catarrh, entarria, deafness or head noises, caused by catarrh, or if phlegm drops in your throat and has caused catarrh of the stomach or bowels you will be glad to know that these distressing symptoms may be entirely overcome in many instances by the following treatment which you can easily prepare in your own home at little cost. Secure from every druggist 1 ounce of Paradol (Double Strength). This will not cost you more than 75c. Take this home and add to it 1/4 pint of hot water and 4 ounces of granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. An improvement is sometimes noted after the first day's treatment. Breathing should be easy, while the distressing head noises, headaches, dullness, cloudy thinking, etc., should gradually disappear under the tonic action of the treatment. Loss of smell, taste, defective hearing and mucus dropping in the back of the throat are other symptoms which suggest the presence of catarrh and which may often be overcome by this efficacious treatment. If nearly ninety percent of all ear trouble are caused by catarrh, there must be many people whose hearing may be restored by this simple home treatment.

Fisher and Streich can supply you.

"THE FOOLISH VIRGIN"

Everybody wants to see this wonderful picture the successful novel by Margaret Deland, upon the speaking stage. David Belasco, under whose management she was starred in "The Lily," and other big stage successes, arranged to produce it, but an unforeseen turn in affairs prevented the plan being carried out. CLARA KIMBALL YOUNG IN "THE FOOLISH VIRGIN" SELZNICK PICTURES

Her Second Picture by Her Own Company, Columbia Tomorrow & Thursday

The disillusionment of a romantic girl who comes face to face with the realities of an unromantic world is the basis of the story of "The Foolish Virgin," the Thomas Dixon novel which has been screened for Miss Clara Kimball Young's second Selznick picture and which will be the attraction at the Columbia tomorrow and Thursday.

Mr. Dixon has international reputation as the author of some of the most stirring novels in modern literature and is particularly well adapted to Miss Young's requirements. The central role is an extremely sympathetic one and the situations as they develop in the narrative, are full of action and dramatic in the extreme. "The Foolish Virgin" was directed by Albert Capellani, the famous producers who screened Miss Young's first immensely successful production as a Selznick picture star, "The Common Law." Conway Tearle and Paul Capellani, who played the most important male roles in "The Common Law," also head the cast of the new production, and among other well-known players who figure prominently in the photodrama are: Catherine Proctor, Sheridan Tansey, the remarkable boy actor, William Welsh, Marie Lines, Agnes Mages, Edward Elkas and little Jacqueline Morhange.

Owen Moore and Irene Fenwick in "A Coney Island Princess," Paramount Feature At The Lyric Tonight

The lure of Coney Island is upon us all. No matter how dignified our demeanor, how ponderous our self-esteem, we are prone to "cut loose" when we arrive at that famous resort and to enter into the spirit of the place with a zest. Coney Island has been invaded by the motion picture producer and made the background of a large part of the action of "A Coney Island Princess," a Famous Players production starring Irene Fenwick supported by Owen Moore on the Paramount program, which is the attraction at the Lyric tonight.

It is an adaptation of the successful play "The Princess Zim" by Edward Sheldon, who dramatized "The Song of Songs" and suggested Miss Fenwick to the producers as being an ideal "princess" because of her great work in that play on the stage.

The Movies

Robert Warwick and Gail Kane in "All Man" at the Lyric Tomorrow

A story with a big appeal to all lovers of nature and deeds of daring. True artistry of expression and strong dramatic scenes are well presented. A splendid comedy vein runs throughout the entire piece and brightens the whole action of the play. Some of the most beautiful scenery in the country has been used as a setting for the action of the play. An exceptionally strong cast in an exceptionally strong play.

Robert Warwick is surrounded by an excellent cast including Mollie King, Gerda Halmes, Johnnie Hines and Charles Duncan. The story is by Willard Mack and directed by Emile Chantard.

Clara Kimball Young in "Marriage a la Carte" At Lyric Thursday

Here's an entrancing, enthralling comedy of money and marriage that will hold you entranced. Clara Kimball Young, in the title role, is beautiful and lovely, and the story is of that snappy, interesting, unusual kind that never fails to register big with all the beholders. James Young, who directed this photoplay, has given the public a remarkably clever and remarkably likeable offering. Society life and the important part that money plays in the love affairs of society people, constitute part of the foundation for this notable offering. "Marriage a la Carte" is a charming comedy that has its serious moments and is thoroughly delightful and entertaining in every foot of its five reels. Clara Kimball Young enacts the leading role and is splendid, in fact it is one of the very best stories she ever acted. Remember this is "not an old film" but a brand new re-issue. If you have seen it you know how good it is and if you have not seen it come and bring the whole family.

Hurry, Mother! Remove Poisons From Little Stomach, Liver, Bowels

Give "California Syrup of Figs" at Once if Bilious or Constipated

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, it is a sure sign that your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once.

When peevish, cross, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, doesn't eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad; has stomach-ache, sore throat, diarrhoea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without gripping and you have a well, playful child again.

You needn't coax sick children to take this harmless "fruit laxative"; they love its delicious taste, and it always makes them feel splendid.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages, and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. It is with great pleasure that I write these lines of praise for your wonderful kidney and bladder remedy. I had kidney trouble so bad I became very much alarmed. I had tried various kidney remedies I heard of but without relief. I was about discouraged of ever being helped, when, one day I picked up a book containing testimonials of people who had been helped and cured of their kidney trouble by the use of Dr. Williams' Swamp-Root, so I decided to try it and I know I owe my present good health to the wonderful curative power of Swamp-Root. I sincerely hope my words will be the means of restoring many other sufferers of kidney and bladder troubles to good health.

Very truly yours,

An automobile belonging to Dr. L. G. Locke of Gallia street became so confident that it could tour the city without a driver that it broke loose from its mooring in front of the Turley building Tuesday and started out.

Dr. Locke, the owner, had climbed out and left it standing in front of the building. The brakes were set all right. But somehow the car broke loose and wandered away.

Down Chillicothe street the machine went bumping and bounding over the tracks of the Portsmouth Street Railroad and Light company. There were lots of things that the machine could have bumped, but it waited.

In front of the Criterion

Clothing store it spied a nice soft telephone pole. The car swerved and jammed its radiator into the pole. The tour stopped and the radiator will have to be taken to a repair shop before it will be of any use again.

After a long period of suffering with liver and bowel trouble that brought on piles, during which she had tried many remedies without obtaining relief, Mrs. Mary J. This simple, inexpensive laxative compound brought about almost immediate relief and Mrs. Jewell wrote to Dr. Caldwell about her case.

In her letter Mrs. Jewell says, "I had tried so many things for the piles, without being helped at all, I had about given up hope of ever being any better. New York, Jan. 30.—The United States Steel Corporation this afternoon declared an extra dividend of 1 1/4 per cent on its common stock. This was in addition to the regular dividend of 1 1/4, making the dividend declarations on the common for the year 1916 eight and a quarter per cent.

Net earnings for the last quarter of 1916 were $105,968,347, a new high record. The regular 1 1/4 per cent preferred dividend was also declared.

Today's three per cent common dividend means a distribution of $15,249,075, the 1 1/4 per cent preferred, $6,304,014. Stockholders common and preferred, will get $21,553,089 by today's action of the board of directors.

The earnings statement showed the record climb of the company's business revealed in successive quarterly reports during the past year. The September thirty-quarter showed earnings of $85,817,067, making the last period show a $20,000,000 increase over the previous period, itself a record mark.

In announcing the dividend action and the quarterly net earnings, Judge Gary said the statement was self explanatory and he had nothing to add to it. Gary has generally issued a statement citing details of the quarterly report and on occasion expressing opinions regarding the financial situation of the corporation.

Mrs. George Breese Relative to the sudden death of Mrs. George Breese at her home in Charleston, W. Va., Sunday night, the Charleston Gazette Monday said:

"Returning to her home, at 206 Bradford street, after an automobile ride, Mrs. Nettie Marie Breese, wife of Hon. George B. Breese, mayor of Charleston, suffered an acute attack of heart trouble at 8:30 o'clock Sunday night, and succumbed 30 minutes later.

"Hernie efforts made to prevent the attack from proving fatal, were unavailing, and one of Charleston's most estimable women answered to the call of the death angel. She was conscious of her condition and crossed the bar with the same Christian fortitude that had marked her life.

"The sudden attack and subsequent death of Mrs. Breese came as an unexpected shock to the distressed family and to those friends who were hurriedly summoned to the residence, and the grief of the stricken family was augmented by the absence of Mayor Breese from the city.

"Leaving Mrs. Breese in her usual good health, Mayor Breese left Charleston on train No. 3, Sunday noon, on his way to Cleveland.

"When Mrs. Breese was suddenly attacked with heart trouble, efforts were made immediately to find Mayor Breese. Through the efforts of General Manager W. T. Williamson, of the Telephone Company, City Auditor Lindsay and S. P. Smith, the mayor was found at the Columbus station, where he had taken a berth on a sleeping car, enroute to Cleveland.

"The mayor was advised of the death of Mrs. Breese and immediately made arrangements for a special train to return to Charleston.

"Mrs. Breese was in good health all day Sunday. She ate dinner Sunday evening with her family, and later talked to Mrs. Lindsay, one of her intimate friends over the telephone and then took a drive over the city in an automobile with members of the family and friends.

"After her return she was stricken suddenly and medical assistance was summoned. The family and friends, shocked by her sudden illness, were given little encouragement, and Mrs. Breese succumbed to the attack within 30 minutes.

"Mrs. Breese was 48 years of age. Prior to her marriage to Mr. Breese at Canton, Ohio, 32 years ago, she was Miss Nettie M. Robinson. She had been a resident of Charleston for 15 years, coming here with her husband from Waverly, Ohio. She had been a member of the Methodist Episcopal church since girlhood and took a prominent part in church and club work, being a member of the Women's Club, the Ladies Aid Society, and recently became affiliated with the Blundon Relief Corps.

"She was the mother of six children, five of whom are living and live in Charleston. They are: George O. Breese, Parrell P. Breese, Charles Breese, Asenith Breese, and Joy Breese, and one grand child. She is also survived by her father, James J. Robinson, who lives at Waverly, Ohio, and three brothers."

FINANCIAL REVIEW

New York, Jan. 30.—The New York Evening Sun financial review today says:

Active selling of United States Steel common, New Haven and some other issues, credited to one or two big operators, had the effect of driving prices down 1 to 3 points or more in the forenoon session of today's stock market, but as soon as this pressure was removed shortly before mid-day the market in general rallied leisurely like the advance of an incoming tide.

This would seem to indicate the market has no more extent been over-sold. There is no great supply of stocks to be had while there is a good investment demand. As to the speculative side there is no one in the market but the professional trader and the transactions of that element are for the most part unimportant.

New York, Jan. 30.—Professional bears, whose operations the house loan committee are probing, opened a drive on New Haven on the stock exchange today, driving it to 89 1/2, down 5 1/2 points from the opening quotation of yesterday.

Two hundred thousand shares were traded in the opening hour, the force of the movement carrying United States Steel below 115, but down 2 1/2 to 87 1/2, and Reading down a point.

Financial tickers carried authoritative statements that rumors of the condition of the New Haven which accompanied the break were groundless and the stock recovered 2 points to 41 1/2 at noon. General Motors broke nearly 5 points, 109 1/2, recovering to 113 1/2. Steel touched 111 1/2, then advanced a point.

The steel sold upward to the highest of the day in the late trading and the general list showed strength at the close.

New York, Jan. 30.—Professional bears, whose operations the house loan committee are probing, opened a drive on New Haven on the stock exchange today, driving it to 89 1/2, down 5 1/2 points from the opening quotation of yesterday.

Two hundred thousand shares were traded in the opening hour, the force of the movement carrying United States Steel below 115, but down 2 1/2 to 87 1/2, and Reading down a point.

Financial tickers carried authoritative statements that rumors of the condition of the New Haven which accompanied the break were groundless and the stock recovered 2 points to 41 1/2 at noon. General Motors broke nearly 5 points, 109 1/2, recovering to 113 1/2. Steel touched 111 1/2, then advanced a point.

The steel sold upward to the highest of the day in the late trading and the general list showed strength at the close.

FINANCIAL REVIEW

New York, Jan. 30.—The New York Evening Sun financial review today says:

Active selling of United States Steel common, New Haven and some other issues, credited to one or two big operators, had the effect of driving prices down 1 to 3 points or more in the forenoon session of today's stock market, but as soon as this pressure was removed shortly before mid-day the market in general rallied leisurely like the advance of an incoming tide.

This would seem to indicate the market has no more extent been over-sold. There is no great supply of stocks to be had while there is a good investment demand. As to the speculative side there is no one in the market but the professional trader and the transactions of that element are for the most part unimportant.

SENATE

today in demanding passage of his resolution providing for unlimited debate by the senate of the president's recent peace address to the senate.

Cummins declared that President Wilson's plan would "revolutionize our institutions, cause us to abandon all our traditions, surrender our sovereignty, transfer to a new nation or league, our navy, army and our treasury, and make our men fight and our women suffer when commanded by an alien authority."

Cummins said: "The president's plan can end in nothing but disaster."

Cummins stated that while the United States should have nothing to do with the terms upon which European peace will be established in so far as these terms relate to territory or reparation, "we ought to have a seat at the council table when the subject of prevention of future wars is concerned."

After quoting the president "as proposing government by the consent of the governed" Cummins said:

"The president wants to sit down with the other powers of the earth and seriously attempt to agree upon a division of the earth and its people into sovereignties and having so apportioned the population of the world among distinct governments he proposes that the universal council shall create a supreme power which will maintain the status thus established, by suppressing insurrections, repelling invasions and overcoming every effort of any single government or combination of governments to change the existing conditions."

This plan, Cummins said, would deny to any nation the right of redress or to maintain its own honor.

"The president failed to make clear," Cummins said, "if this league of nations could change the territorial limits of governments or transfer a people with their consent from one to another."

"There is but one conclusion that can be drawn from the president's utterance," said Cummins. "It is that over all the nations of the earth there shall be a common and supreme power which not only undertakes to decide all controversies, but which having judgment will compel obedience."

Cummins declared that the only way such an obedience could be compelled would be by "overcoming the rebellious nation by force of arms."

"Whose arms? Those of superior power," Cummins asked and answered. "But two methods can be employed."

Cummins said there are but two methods that can be employed in establishing the guarantee of permanent peace. The first he said, would be an agreement among nations of the world to create the league with jurisdiction to decide disputes, with a contractual obligation to furnish armies, navies and money to the league to make such successful war upon a recalcitrant member. The other method included partial disarmament of the nations of the league.

As an example of the weakness of this method, Cummins pictured war between Germany and England—both members of the proposed league.

U. S. ANXIOUSLY AWAIT THE KAISER'S NEXT PEACE MOVE

Washington, Jan. 30.—The Kaiser's next move towards international peace—considered one of the critical steps in peace developments—was anxiously awaited today.

Berlin dispatches yesterday that the German government was to send Ambassador Bernstorff, a statement in answer to President Wilson's speech aroused the greatest speculation here. If this proposed statement is phrased in certain more agreeable terms as to Germany's present situation—in other words, if it does not "harp too much on victorious German arms," as an official put it today—it is declared the message will do much to advance the peace movement.

Unofficial reports which have reached this country daily during the last week have led those close to the president to believe the Wilson "peace without victory" suggestion offers Germany's ruling power a big opening to come through with the most "lenient" terms and still not appear to humiliate itself before the world.

A "peace without victory" will enable Germany, it is believed, to offer peace for the world after this war is over, and willingness to limit armaments laid down by the Entente. Admission information indicates that Germany will support the president's peace arrangement as regards freedom of the seas, an autonomous Poland, the yielding of Belgium, Serbia, Montenegro, Rumania and Northern France, in compliance with the president's suggestion that small nations should have the same privileges of self-government as large, and should not be subject to being buffeted about from power to power; some form of "international concert" suggested by the president to insure peace for the world after this war is over, and willingness to limit armaments.

Shadown, of the Second Kentucky National Guard regiment, for embezzlement, was received from President Wilson just as his regiment was preparing to leave for home today.

Lieutenant Shadown was court-martialed for embezzling $175 from the canteen fund. So far as known this is the first case of a guard officer being sentenced to the federal prison. Lieutenant Shadown's home is at Somerset, Ky.

"I hear that state department will issue statement on economic situation in attempt to promote peace prospects. What do you think of this and how are you on stocks?" (Signed) "CLEMENTS"

In reply Hutton wired that "our Washington wire gives same information."

Naval Board Changes Original Plans Of Tour

Washington, Jan. 30.—The naval board, which will inspect suggested sites for the $11,000,000 armor plant, probably will leave Washington late this week for their first investigation tour which will take them into West Virginia and Western Maryland.

Rear Admiral Fletcher, head of the board, reported to Secretary Daniels today, that tentative plans for a trip first into Alabama and Georgia had been changed because the members want to await an analysis of ores in the Alabama district before looking over the proposed sites in that section.

After the trip through West Virginia and Maryland the board probably will tour Tennessee, Alabama and Georgia, and later will inspect suggested locations in the Ohio valley and middle-west. The claims of each section will be sifted before those of another section are taken up, with the board spending several days in Washington between trips to digest the data gathered.

Neutral Members Of Crews Of Armed Prizes Held As War Prisoners By Germans

London, Jan. 30.—Germany is keeping as "war prisoners" all neutral members of the crews of armed prizes taken by the latest German raider, according to stories of neutral survivors from the Yarrowdale, arriving at Copenhagen today, en route to their homes.

Twenty-six such survivors—Americans, Swedes and Norwegians—arrived at the Danish port direct from Germany. They had been taken from unarmed vessels captured by the raider—which all agreed was the Moewe—and brought into Swine Munde on the Yarrowdale, later being released on their showing of neutral citizenship, and because the ships on which they served were unarmed.

The original German statement on the Yarrowdale said of the 460 members of the crews of captured vessels brought into Swine Munde, 123 were neutrals. It was therefore assumed here today that the 77 remaining neutrals are being classed by Germany as members of hostile forces simply because they served on hostile merchant men.

Copenhagen dispatches today added one more ship to the raider's list of victims—the British steamer Canbrian Range, sunk early in December.

The twenty-six survivors united in identifying the raider as the German cruiser Moewe and placed her speed at well over twenty knots. She was described as almost new, with electrically disguised guns so concealed by false rails that her formidable character is not apparent until she drops the mask. Her crew said she was sufficiently supplied with food and fuel to last her until March.

The raider's armament was given as four large guns, two smaller ones and four torpedo tubes.

The survivors at Copenhagen said their meals aboard the raider were mostly macaroni and biscuits, and during their confinement in Germany nothing but cabbage and bread.

AMERICAN AVIATOR TO RETURN TO JAPAN WITH MOTHER AT HIS SIDE

Fort Wayne, Ind., Jan. 30.—With Art Smith, world's foremost exhibition aviator, speeding to wards San Francisco, his little mother here today divulged his plans and added a hope that the message calling her to his side for a journey to the Orient might not be long delayed.

Art started for the west coast yesterday from Chicago. He will sail for Japan about March 1. There, with his mother, as a spectator, he will conclude the schedule of flights that was interrupted when he fell nearly a year ago fracturing one of his legs.

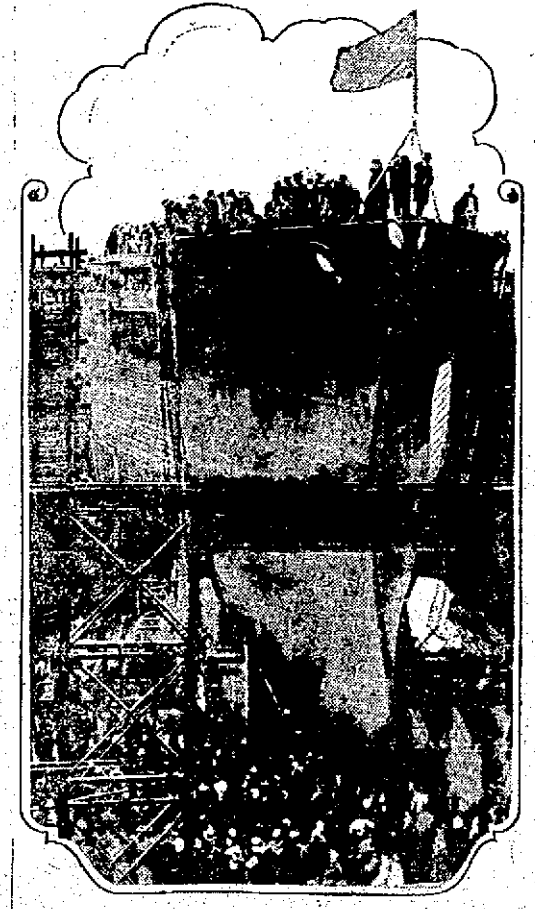

Arthur expects to make all the principal Japanese cities, and expects to spend some time with the Japanese army flying corps, instructing the daps in aerial maneuvers," said his proud mother today.

"He hasn't given up his plans for organizing a company to manufacture planes for commercial use, and he expects in Japan to interest Japanese capital in his plans," she said.

Art told friends here that the Japanese government has indicated it will offer such a plant desirable contracts as a sort of subsidy. He will remain in Japan six months or a year.

Bill Aimed At Liability Insurance Companies Is To Come Up In House Thurs.

Columbus, O., Jan. 30.—The initiative bill to drive liability insurance companies out of competition with the state workmen's compensation fund is on the calendar of the house as a special order for Thursday.

This brings the measure to a final vote then. All indications today were that it will pass overwhelmingly.

At a hearing of the labor committee, at which it was voted to recommend the bill for passage, demand was made by E. A. Roberts, secretary of the Cleveland Builders' Exchange, and A. J. Vorys that the legislature seek to learn truth or falsity of reports that the workmen's compensation fund is insolvent.

The senate today had a substitute bill for financial relief of Ohio cities. It was offered by Senator Terrell, to take the place of a measure he introduced last week. The bill took interest and sinking fund charges out of the ten mill limitation of the Smith law. The new bill would limit interest and sinking fund levies to the total of the combined interest and sinking fund levies of 1916.

Senator Terrell introduced a bill requiring sheriffs to feed prisoners at cost and raising the daily maximum for each prisoner from 45 cents to 50 cents.

The senate health committee is expected to kill a measure for licensing of optometrists, following a successful fight by Senator Wright to have the bill go to that committee, of which he is chairman.

Senator Gilmore Eaton, who introduced the bill, wanted it to go to the friendly common schools committee, but was defeated on a roll call.

The message recommendation by former Governor Willis that the legislature probe the high cost of living, is up for consideration by the house today as "special business." Republican Minority Leader Reighard last yesterday succeeded in having a special probe resolution by Representative Clark, Warren county, taken from the committee on state and economic betterment and put up to the house for action.

At the same time the house will consider a resolution by Representative Chester, Paulding county, calling for a gasoline price probe.

As predicted, the building and loan bill, introduced by Representative Parrett, Fayette county, started a bitter fight in the house when it came up for reference to committee.

Parrett demanded it go to the house banking committee. His plan was thwarted when House Majority Leader Stokes moved it go to the new special committee on building and loan societies, which is understood to oppose drastic provisions of Parrett's bill.

It Works! Try It

Tells how to loosen a sore, tender corn so it lifts out without pain.

Good news spreads rapidly and druggists here are kept busy dispensing freezone, the other discovery of a Cincinnati man, which is said to loosen any corn so it lifts out with the fingers.

Ask at any pharmacy for a quarter of freezone, which will cost very little, but is said to be sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or callus.

You apply just a few drops on the tender, aching corn and instantly the soreness is relieved, and soon the corn is so shriveled that it lifts out without pain. It is a sticky substance which dries when applied and never inflames or even irritates the adjoining tissue.

This discovery will prevent thousands of deaths annually from lockjaw and infection heretofore resulting from the suicidal habit of cutting corns.

Allies Confer In Petrograd

London, Jan. 30.—The third of the allied conferences seeking co-operation of all forces of all the Entente nations was in progress today at Petrograd. Particular interest attaches to it, in the view of military experts here, because of the recent indications on the Riga front of a new strengthening of Russia and because the czar's forces and those of Rumania have apparently stopped further German progress in Rumania.

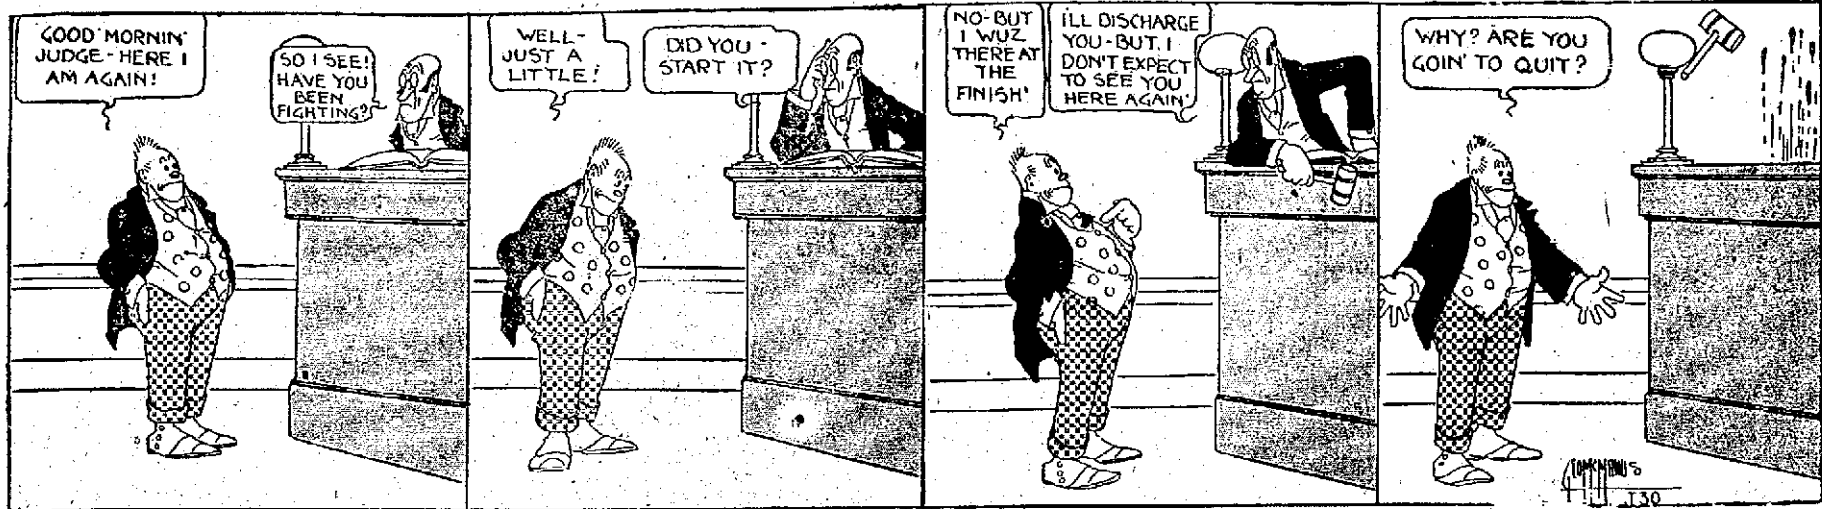

At the conference England is represented by Lords Revelstoke and Milner (the latter one of Lloyd George's war council); France by General Castelnau and Minister of Colonies Domergue; and Italy by General Landerelli and Senator Scialoja.

W.W. Down Again--High Pressure Main Breaks

Will Make Repairs By Tuesday Evening Is Official Promise

That "some water" which Service Director Ralph Calvert reported in the new municipal reservoir Monday proved to be a genuine dyed-in-the-wool life saver Tuesday, when a blow-out on the 30 inch high pressure main caused the closing down of the pumping station.

Just exactly how many feet or inches of real water there was in the new municipal reservoir, which so tenderly mothered that "eight feet five" in such a mysterious way not so long ago, is not known. But it is a fact that the reserve supply there supplied the normal demand of the city without any trouble until about 2:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Mayor H. H. Kaps, who was overseeing the repair work at the new pumping station Tuesday afternoon said the repairs would be completed about 5 o'clock this evening and the regular pump service would be resumed.

A defect, it is said, on the 30-inch high pressure pipe line, near the river bank, started a small leak Monday which developed into a regular geyser Tuesday morning. The pumps were stopped and the repair work was started. When this break is repaired the pumps will be started.

The two regular low duty pumps, which have been giving the employees considerable trouble have been overhauled and repaired and will be ready for service within the next day or so, Mayor Kaps said Tuesday. This will give the city the advantage of 3 pumps instead of two.

With this equipment working in good shape Mayor Kaps said he believed that there would be lots of water pumped into the reservoir instead of "some water."

S. S. Workers Plan For Another Rally

That the members of the First Christian Bible school propose to keep up the good work started last Sunday, when 1207 were present, was conclusively demonstrated Monday night when the workers gathered at the call of Superintendent Charles M. Howland to prepare for a big crowd next Sunday as well as the following Sunday.

Without a single dissenting voice it was decided to continue the same organizations that worked so splendidly last Sunday. The various captains will be assisted by their respective helpers and no doubt a still larger crowd will be present. It is hoped to bring the adult department up to the 1000 mark before the rally ends. Last Sunday 750 adults were present, the divided fifty-fifty with reference to sex. The women next Sunday intend to go far beyond the horrid men in point of good looks as well as numbers, and what they do purpose they generally perform. One of the chief attractions will be an open air concert rendered by the crack Jr. O. U. A. M. band 50-50 split in a race means.

Action Of House Means All Ohio Cities Have Chance

Columbus, O., Jan. 30.—The House of Representatives today agreed to the Senate amendment to a joint resolution introduced by Representative Russell, Lawrence county, aimed originally at landing the government armor plant for Ironton.

The Senate had changed Russell's original resolution to include the whole state of Ohio instead of just Ironton and opposition to this change melted away when Russell himself said he had no objection to the amendment.

Russell pointed out, however, that the government has barred all but Lawrence county in its zone of territory in which the plant could be located.

"We're not fighting any other city in the state," Russell said, "and if any other town thinks it can land the plant Ironton won't stand in its way."

NEW SCHOOL BUILDING WILL HAVE A NUMBER OF ATTRACTIVE FEATURES

A decided new feature in school building construction has been incorporated in the new school building, which is to be erected at the corner of Second and Chillicothe streets by the board of education.

Besides being one of the handsomest public schools in the city, arrangements have been made to give unhealthy children open air-class rooms.

Ritter and Bates, local architects, who have charge of preparing the plans and specifications, announced Tuesday that the new building would be modeled on the old Spanish Renaissance idea with cream colored brick, big stone pillars, terra cotta trimmings and artistic red tile roof.

The building proper is to be three stories in height. Four tall stone pillars support the arched porch entrance to which is gained by flights of winding stairs. The top is capped with an artistic red tile roof. On either side are wings, two stories in height.

Opposite the main entrance there is a rotunda, which is to be used for a kindergarten. On either side are class rooms and cloak rooms.

In all there are 11 large class rooms, a kindergarten, an open air class room, two large open air drill places, a manual training room, a domestic science room and other conveniences.

The idea of using the third floor exclusively for crippled and unhealthy children was worked out by the architects with Prof. Frank Appel, superintendent. It has been used in Eastern cities for several years with good results.

The building is to be automatically ventilated, heated and every convenience known that will promote better health conditions has been included in the specifications.

It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore harmless.

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, vexes, inquietudes, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, O. Office Phone 60.

ONE ANXIOUS TO KNOW.
Articles of separation properly drawn, release each other's property of any claim of the other. Each can buy and sell as they see fit without the other party being in any way interested. The articles should be recorded.

Dear Dolly—Is it true that one of our presidents was born up near Trenton? If so which one?
SIOU MIE.

Yes, Ulysses Simpson Grant was born at Point Pleasant, Ohio. However I wouldn't hold that against him if I were you.

Dear Dolly—As I see you have given other people such good advice I will come to you for advice. I am twenty-two years old and I have been going with a boy twenty-three for the past two years. He is an awful nice boy and he has no bad habits. I have been away for the last two months on a visit. He went as far as Cincinnati with me and as he was in Cincinnati he came up on the train with me. While I was gone he went with another girl. I didn't care for that but the girl was jealous of me and told me that he told her he liked her better than he did me and she wanted me to quit him. But I have got nothing to quit him for. Do you think that if he liked her better than he did me that he would quit her for me? What would you advise me to do? What will take perspiration stains out of goods?

PEGGY.

If you like him just keep on going with him, no matter what she says. White vinegar or ammonia will remove perspiration stains. If you put shields in your waists you won't ruin them with perspiration.

Dear Miss Wise—How many acres of ground are attached to the state hospital at Athens?
YOURS FOR KNOWLEDGE,
686.92. Only 375 acres are tillable.

Dear Dolly—Your advice was very good indeed. I was to see the strawberry blonde last night. I came very near to marrying. I asked her to have me and the reply was no. If she had said yes I would have married her without a doubt. Now should I court her a while longer or should I look for some one else? Now I know another one not far from where I live but she has two boys and two girls and what is worse they all have a terrible temper. Now if I was to marry her and they would all get mad and double team on me I sure would be a goner. I am at a loss to know what to do.

AN OLD READER.
Better keep on "a courin'" the strawberry blonde.

Dear Miss Wise—Where does the Scioto river begin and how much territory does it drain?
SCIO TO TRAIL.

The source of the main stream of the Scioto is in eastern Auglaize county. It drains an area of about 6,430 square miles.

A Reader of 57—You are old enough to know better than to ask such foolish questions. A man of your age ought to have all his teeth if he hasn't lost any. However I do not think you have gotten your "wisdom teeth" yet. The war hasn't had any effect on the price of marriage licenses as yet. It isn't necessary to wear a dress suit. The moon hasn't anything to do with it.

From a Good Character at Lucasville—Why don't you tell the mayor or marshal at Otway how the boys abuse the crippled man. If they do not know how to act around respectable people they ought to be placed where they will have to behave. It's a sin and a shame to mistreat anyone especially a helpless old man and it's your duty to see that these boys are punished if they persist in annoying him.

The person interested in the little girl who wanted to take music lessons may have her name and address if they will call me up.

If Joseph G. Wolfe, formerly of Louisville, Ky., is still in the city, will he please phone 60.

Looking For A Place To Work

Likewise Finds Woman Who Really Wanted A Reference

Editorial Note—This is the fourth and last of a series of articles written by Miss Griswold, telling of her experience while "In Search of a Place To Work." Tomorrow Miss Griswold will give a resume of her experiences and have something of interest concerning her impressions. Don't miss it.

(By Louise Griswold)

A restaurant advertised for a girl to assist in house and restaurant. I applied. "We don't make enough to pay more than three dollars," the portly woman in charge, claimed, as we stood at the end of the center aisle between the tables, in sight and ear-shot of several patrons.

Her daughter came in and cleared away the used dishes and wiped the tables with her damp dish towel.

"You would not have to wait table, but just help in the kitchen and wash dishes, and do the upstairs work. We have the laundry done out, when there are too many sheets and tablecloths to wash at home. I would want you to do the ironing, and wash the tea towels. We don't have enough work for three, and yet we have too much for two. We have often done all the other work and also the washing and ironing. If I went home at night I would have to be there at 7:30 in the mornings. If I lived there I could not have any company after nine o'clock. The restaurant was the only place in which I could entertain. The restaurant closed promptly at nine o'clock, therefore the company must go. "I have a young girl now, but you never can tell how long they'll stay," she said. You come around later."

Mrs. X, whose add I answered, knew she had a lot of work to be done and wondered if I felt that I could do it. Her house had large rooms and she wanted a girl upon whom she could depend to take entire charge, in case she would not be well or wished to look after other things. "I want to get out of the cooking," she said, as she patted the chubby child on her lap. "But I'll take all the care of Baby and will seldom ask you to stay with her in the afternoon. There were two other children in the family. Baby hopped down and played peak-a-bow with me from under the table, as I assured her mother that I had often taken care of little folks and liked to.

Mrs. X insisted on having the washing done at home and she also wanted the baking done. But if I could not bake, she would. And she had paid four dollars to her other girls who had been satisfactory. Three of them had left her home to be married. She had just fired one for incompetency. She only kept her three days.

"Where did your girls have their company?" I inquired. Her last girl, she said, had never entertained her "beau" there, but as his family lived here, she had many times gone to his home. A previous one had used the kitchen. I was told that if I liked, I might go and come through the side door, which opened into the dining-room.

"Have you ever worked for anyone?" I would like to know what they have to say," she said. This was the first hint I had had about references. I told her that I had never worked out, but had gone ahead with work at home.

"Your face looks honest," she continued. "One can nearly always tell that way. One's face shows what one is."

Other applicants had been ahead of me, so I was again put off.

Mrs. X told me of some places where it was possible they were still in need of a girl, but before I had gone to her house I had been to see

Mrs. D. When I told Mrs. D. that I had heard she wanted a girl, she turned to the maid, who had admitted me to the kitchen door and said, "No, I guess I'm not looking for one, am I?"

"I did want one just a few days ago," continued Mrs. D. My girl left in a hurry when I wasn't here. She had only been here a few days and was sweeping the living room with the windows closed. "I said to her, 'Why, Emma, when I sweep, I raise the windows.' She did not reply, and when I returned from a neighbor's an hour or so later, she had packed up her things and disappeared.

"Well, she didn't want you to teach her anything," it seems," I said. I have learned that that remark won over Mrs. D.

I had been directed to call at another house. A daughter who came to the door, said that both she and her mother had satisfactory girls at the time, but she might need one soon; for her girl might not come back from her own home. "I would like to see you get a place," she said, in the most encouraging manner. "You want one right away, don't you? Do you like children? I assented and she told me of a friend on the Hilltop, who wanted a nurse girl and whom she would call up, to tell her about me. She wanted to know my address so that if her girl did not return she could call me. Then she directed me to Mrs. D. I did not tell her I had just seen Mrs. D. Later a little bird told me that Mrs. D. was trying to locate the girl that she sent to Mrs. D. and that Mrs. D. had sent to someone else.

SOCIETY

A pretty wedding was solemnized last evening at the home of Mrs. Mary E. Boyles, 502 Court street, where her youngest daughter, Grace P. Boyles and Mr. Floyd A. Barr, of Covington, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Barr, of Bond street, were married at eight o'clock, in the presence of one hundred and twenty-five relatives and friends. The rooms were attractive in pink and white decorations. Promptly at eight o'clock Miss Marie Antoinette Webb, of Covington, niece of the bride, played the wedding march from Lehengrin. The bridal party advanced to the parlor, where they were grouped about a beautiful bower of palms and ferns, which made an attractive background. The attendants were Miss Lulu Puckett and Mr. Edward L. Schneider, of Dayton. Miss Puckett wore a lovely gown of pink crepe de chine trimmed in Georgette crepe, and carried an armful of Killarney roses. Little Miss Mary Katherine Hartmann, attired in distinctive white, with ribbons of pink, was the flower girl. She preceded the bride and groom, strewn the pathway with pink rose-petals. The bride never looked prettier than in her handsome bridal toilet. Her gown was of white tulle and Georgette crepe, trimmed with crystals. Her hair veil of tulle was caught to her hair with sprays of white sweet peas, and she carried a shower bouquet of sweet peas and bride roses. The impressive ring ceremony was said by Rev. H. H. Webb, pastor of the First Christian church of Covington, brother-in-law of the bride. Miss Webb, who played the wedding music, wore white crepe de chine with crystal trimmings and a corsage bouquet of pink roses. A large white bell was suspended over the attractive group. During the ceremony Miss Webb played "Melody of Love." In line to receive were Mrs. Mary E. Boyles, Mr. and Mrs. George Barr, Hartmann, Mr. and Mrs. George Barr, and the happy bride and groom.

After congratulations, delicious pink and white refreshments were served in the beautiful pink and white dining-room. The souvenirs were pieces of the bride's cake, wrapped in white tissue paper and tied with pink ribbons. The young woman who passed the cake souvenirs were Misses Hattie Tatman, Mercedes Morrison, Bess Hartmann, Esther Gnilkey, Katherine Gerlach, Grace Robinson.

Among the large number of guests were several from out-of-town, as follows: Miss Mabel Fisher, of Ironton; Miss Mabel Schickert, of Circleville; Rev. and Mrs. H. H. Webb and two daughters, Merle and Mildred, of Covington; Mr. William Spangler, of Jeffersonville; Mrs. Arthur Barr, of Dayton; Mr. Edward Schneider, of Dayton; Mrs. Kate Bunzo, of Lucasville. Mrs. C. Wason and Mrs. D. Wildie received the guests as they arrived. Mrs. John Debo, cousin of the bride, had charge of the guest book and was attired in pale green crepe de chine. The happy couple left today for Covington, where they will go to housekeeping in a cozy apartment. The bride wore a traveling suit of tulle, with pretty hat to match. The groom is a fine young man, who holds a splendid position on the Cincinnati Enquirer.

Prepare This for a Bad Cough—It's Fine

Cheaply and Easily Made, but Does the Work Quickly.

The finest cough syrup that money can buy—costing only about one-fifth as much as ready-made preparations—can easily be made up at home. The way it takes hold and conquers distressing coughs, throat and chest colds will really make you enthusiastic about it. Any druggist can supply you with this "Secret of Power" (Pine's worth). Put this into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Shake thoroughly and it is ready for use. The total cost is about 44 cents and gives you a full pint of family supply of a most effective, pleasant tasting remedy. It keeps perfectly.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the inflamed or swollen throat membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and distressing cough will disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic croup, whooping cough or bronchial asthma. Pine's is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, combined with quinine and is known the world over for its prompt healing effect on the throat membranes.

Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pine's" with full directions and don't accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded goes with this preparation. The Pine Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Take a Wineglassful of Tollo Water and Feel Fine in Thirty Minutes

THEATRICAL

"The Natural Law" At The Sun

"The Natural Law," as presented last evening, certainly proved to be startling as was announced by the management several days ago. This fact is unanimously attested by the large and attentive audience which last evening witnessed the performance of Charles Sumner's greatest New York success. Thrills, throbs, laughter and tears follow each other in rapid succession, leaving not a lax minute from curtain to curtain. The play becomes more tense as time elapses, and the well-balanced company is well able to give the stirring lines another one of those sterling shows that contains a lesson or carries an important message to each and every mother. A pretty love story is cleverly interwoven in the bill, and is intermingled at opportune periods with good, rich comedy.

See this play tonight and tomorrow matinee and night for the last time. Tomorrow after the matinee Miss Kirk will deliver her lecture especially for high school girls, dismissing all men and boys in the audience.

Debating Team Selected

The First End Boy Scout troop held a splendid meeting last night at the home of Dr. J. D. Jordan, 1661 Eleventh street. The chief business of the evening was the selection of a debating team for this season. Three boys were selected as follows: Maurice Mendel, captain; James Scott and Harold Bierly. John Snively, of troop 1, was present at the meeting to confer with the team on a subject for the opening debate between these teams on Feb. 8. The subject decided on was: "Resolved: That the Adamson Eight Hour Law is a just Act of Legislation." Troop 1 will have the affirmative side of the question and Troop 8 the negative. The Scoutmaster read a very interesting basketball story from "Boys' Life." One new member, Ashbury Crum, was received as a member of Troop 8.

Fast Games Scheduled Tonight

The following fast games are scheduled in the Boy Scout League tonight: East End vs. Tigers. Corneraters vs. Eagles. If the East Enders can defeat the Tigers tonight they will tie with them for first place honors. Dunn, fast East End forward, who has been sick, will be back in the game tonight. This will greatly strengthen the team. First game starts promptly at 7 o'clock.

MORE RHEUMATISM THAN EVER BEFORE

Our old friend Rheumatism is having his inning this year, and a few words of caution from one who knows all about it may be of aid.

Wear rubbers in damp weather; keep your feet dry; drink plenty of lemonade, and avoid strong alcoholic drinks. If rheumatism gets you, or sends you to bed with joints aching, or causes pain or swelling of joints or muscles, you are getting rid of all agony in just a few days by taking one-half teaspoonful of theumex once a day.

All druggists know about Rheumatism; it's harmless, yet powerful; cheap, yet sure, and a 50-cent bottle will last a long time. Ask Wurster Bros., or any druggist.

It will be a big evening, and best of all, there will be no admission fee, but will be open to the public.

RID STOMACH OF GASES, SOURNESS AND INDIGESTION

"Pape's Diapiesin" Ends All Stomach Distress In Five Minutes.

You don't want a slow remedy when your stomach is bad—or an uncertain one—or a harmful one—your stomach is too valuable; you mustn't injure it with drastic drugs.

Pape's Diapiesin is noted for its speed in giving relief; its harmlessness; its certain unfailing action in regulating sick, sour, gassy stomachs. Its millions of cures in indigestion, dyspepsia, gastritis and other stomach trouble has made it famous the world over.

Keep this perfect stomach doctor in your home—keep it handy—get a large fifty-cent case from any drug store and then if anyone should eat something which doesn't agree with them; if what they eat lays like lead, ferments and sours and forms gas; causes headache, dizziness and nausea; eructations of acid and undigested food—remember as soon as Pape's Diapiesin comes in contact with the stomach all such distress vanishes. Its promptness, certainty and ease in overcoming the worst stomach disorders is a revelation to those who try it.

Games Wednesday

Dippers vs. Hall Birds.

The grip ridden June Bugs dropped two out of three to the Cat Birds at the Play House alleys last night, although they lost the first game by the narrow margin of five pins, which delighted Captain Hutchins of the victors just as much as though it had been a million. To show that they could run away with their adversaries, the Cat Birds came back with 812 in the middle game and then fell away to nothing.

rolling such small scores that it would have been difficult for an artist to get enough of the outlines to complete an enlargement. It is quite likely that had the two absent June Bugs been present to be unfazed and it is just as likely that the Cat Birds would have taken three in a row. You can't tell a darn thing about duck pins.

The real star of the evening was General U. S. Grant of the Cat Birds. This huge piece of humanity rolled in rare form and with much skill and accuracy, maintained the high scores of the evening. And yet B. H. Charlton, lead off man for the June Bugs, was right there forty ways from the jack, gathering three lovely scores and adding materially to his average. Captain Kelley was much perturbed by the absence of two of his men and did not roll with as much consistency as generally marks his efforts. He tried his hardest but was just a few shy his best efforts.

B. Keller of the Cat Birds had two nice games, but when he saw his captain making the lowly score of 79, he began slinking and couldn't reach the century mark in his last game. Waller Wilhelm surprised himself, the spectators and Cat Birds by luring in 125 in his middle game. No kind friend, he didn't repeat, neither before nor after. The scores:

Games Wednesday
Inspectors vs. Main Office.

It begins to look as though the S. and J. Department team of the Whitaker-Glessner Bowling league, is the cream of that organization. Last night at the Play House alleys the team took the lead in a row from the S. and B. Dept. Not only did they defeat their adversaries three in a row but they fractured a league record in doing the same, gathering a total of 2348. This was accomplished mainly through the fine work of Ernest Eymon and J. Smith both of whom shot well over the 200 mark, getting their scores in the second game when the team totaled 908 pins. Eymon scored off 225 and Smith chipped 210. The Lewis, lead off man for the S. and B. department blazed the way with a 201 score in the second game and was one of the happiest men this side of kingdom come. In fact, he was right there all evening and slammed into those pins with the accuracy of a battle scared sharp-shooter. The boys had a good time and whooped things up as though the end of the war depended upon the outcome. The scores:

BRITTON AND DOWNEY ARE WINNERS

Columbus, Jan. 30.—Bryan Downey, local flash, beat Johnny Tillman, Minneapolis, all the way in the 12-round bout here last night.

Cincinnati, Jan. 30.—Jack Britton, welterweight champion, had a shade the better of Johnny Griffiths of Akron at the end of ten fast rounds of scientific milling here last night. No knockdowns were scored, the nearest thing approaching one coming in the tenth round when Griffiths staggered Britton. Britton's left jab almost closed Griffiths' left eye. They fought before a packed house.

Going Back To Town Boys

Pirates Get 1917 Contracts

Pittsburgh, Jan. 30.—Contracts for the season of 1917 were mailed today by the Pittsburgh baseball team to players living at a distance. Some contracts contain material reductions from the salaries paid last year, but this is by no means general and some players will be offered the amount they formerly received. At present only five players are under contract, including Al Mamaux, pitcher, whose agreement has two years more to run.

Basketball On Ice Is Latest

Cleveland, Jan. 30.—Basketball on ice with skates—a brand new sport to be tried out here Saturday—requires a special set of rules.

It was announced today the rules prohibit dribbling as too dangerous. No players will be allowed to hold the ball more than five seconds. When the ball is put into play there shall be no jumping, but each player must stand with his arms behind his back until the ball is descending.

Barney Furey In Ft. Wayne

Barney Furey, who pulled off several boxing matches here, is now located in Ft. Wayne, Ind., where he is acting as referee for an athletic club there.

Walsh To Become Magnate

New York, Jan. 30.—Ed Walsh, former pitching star of the Chicago White Sox, is giving serious consideration to the proposition of becoming a baseball magnate. He is said to have been approached with inducements to take over the Des Moines club of the Western league, now owned by Frank Isbell, another former member of the White Sox.

Of course, no one doubts who is the guiding hand in the deal which would send Walsh to Des Moines. The whole thing would be engineered by Charles Comiskey, who has long been one of the chief figures in the Western league.

Isbell himself maintained for a long time an alliance with the Old Roman. Isbell, it is said, wants to devote all his time to the management and ownership of the former Wehita club, now transferred to Colorado Springs.

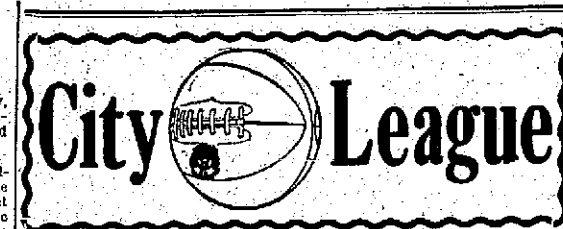

Walsh probably would be popular in Des Moines. He was a great pitcher, often a visitor to Des Moines with the White Sox, and often played there. Preparations have been made for some time to land Walsh in a favorable community.

The Busy Ad Wolgast

Chicago, Jan. 30.—Despite the fact that Ad Wolgast has been condemned to the discard a half score of times, the Michigan Bear Cat is still some drawing card. His manager announced today he could play single night stands all over the east if he accepted the offers he gets for his fighter.

Wolgast is scheduled to fight Young Brooks before the Armory A. C. at Boston February 20. The fight will go 12 rounds to a decision.

On February 21, Wolgast mixes with Frank Fleming before the Shamrock A. C. in Montreal in a ten round decision bout.

The following week he is matched to meet Will Jackson, Philadelphia scrapper, who last week disposed of Johnny Dundee in the first round before the Harlem Club in New York and a week later he fights Young Terry McGovern at Philadelphia.

Everett Scott Is Holdout

Boston, Jan. 30.—Everett Scott whose defensive work at shortstop was a feature of the playing of the Boston American league baseball club in winning the league and world's championship pennants last season, has returned his 1917 contract unsigned, it was learned today. It was reported that his new contract offered a smaller salary than he received last year. George Foster, one of the star pitchers of the team, who, it was reported last fall, intended to quit baseball, has notified President Harry Frazee, that he had decided to remain in the game.

New York, Jan. 30.—Les Darcy's first appearance before the American fight public has been settled. Today it was announced by Grant Hugh Brown, Madison Square Garden boxing impresario, that Al McCoy, the alleged middleweight champion of this section of the world, had signed articles of agreement, calling for a ten round bout the night of March 5. Al will get his $10,000 and Brown hopes he chokes on it.

As has been predicted by the United Press, McCoy and Brown, together with Tim O'Sullivan, met late yesterday for appointment and O'Sullivan shaved $5,000 off the Darcy price of $30,000. Hence, Darcy will be doing his ten rounds for a mere $25,000.

Gee, Cost Fred Copas $10 To Get Grip Cure, Police News

That wheezing, pounding, veiled grip machine, which "Shonk" so vividly pictured a few days ago caused the downfall of a man who in police court said his name was Fred Copas.

Fred, who was arraigned Tuesday morning, admitted that he had been drunk and disorderly, but trotted out an alibi. He was threatened with the grip. And after seeing "Shonk's" picture he became frightened over the prospects of a visit from the demon, he says. So he took the advice of a "friend."

His "friend" advised him to get some whiskey and quinine, mix them and drink liberally after which there would be no more grip. Drink he did.

Then everything went wrong and he developed a temperamental streak. An officer was sent to his home on Robinson avenue and Fred doubled his fists and defied the world. The defiance did not last long for Fred was taken under the protecting wing of two policemen.

That cure for the grip cost Fred $10 in police court Tuesday.

"Not drunk" declared a man who said he was Samuel Norse, when arraigned on a charge of intoxication.

"Why the officer says that you were arrested at 1:30 o'clock this morning out on Eighth and Waller street. He says that you were drunk and leaning against a telephone pole," added Mayor Kaps.

"Yes, I was standin' there but I wasn't drunk."

Samuel was fined $5 but it was suspended pending good behavior.

L'il Dan Arrington, colored, "done stuck his hand through a window" out at the Al Smith restaurant, North End, and "that'er act done cost him twenty-five big iron bones."

L'il Dan did not have the ready cash so he was sent over to the county jail where he will reflect upon his doings until the fine and costs are paid.

"Nothin' to it," a man registering as John Ratcliff, declared when arraigned on a charge of assaulting his wife. "You see, Mister Kaps, it started last Saturday when my boy wanted a pair of shoes. She hit me and I throwed my hand back, like this," demonstrating how it was done, "and hit her. That's all there was to it."

Mrs. Ratcliff failed to appear and tell her side of the story, so the case was continued.

E. L. Arthur and Lawrence Cole were names given by two men fined $5 each on charges of intoxication.

Chas. Horr Buys The Wanless Planing Mill

A deal was closed Monday, whereby Chas. Horr, Gallia street grocer, came into possession of the J. F. Wanless planing mill, Twelfth street, near Waller street. It is understood the deal aggregated $10,000.

As soon as Mr. Wanless removes the machinery from the various buildings, Mr. Horr expects to begin the erection of a modern warehouse, of sufficient capacity to meet the demands of his growing business.

Part of the mill proper will be utilized for warehouse purposes, the building being in splendid condition. Mr. Horr will also begin the laying of a 100 foot switch connecting with the N. & W. railway, which will facilitate the handling of goods in carload lots. Mr. Horr anticipates a big building boom this spring, and when he remodels the property he will be enabled to carry several carloads of builders' supplies.

The property has a frontage of 200 feet along the railroad and more than 100 faces on Twelfth street.

Mr. Wanless has been operating the mill for the past ten years. He states that he expects to use the lumber now on hand in the erection of four or five houses, two of which will be erected on Gallia street.

IRONTON GETS SOLVAY PLANT

Ironton, Jan. 30.—Assistant General Manager Parker of the Genet-Solvay Co., of Syracuse, N. The cost of the plant will be about $2,000,000 and it will employ about 250 men. While it is being constructed about 150 men will be employed, at least 100 of whom will be highly paid skilled labor, making a big addition to local wage distribution even before the plant is ready for operation.

It is planned to get the ground work under way at once and when the work on the Portsmouth plant is completed bring the well organized staff employed there to this city. About 100 brick layers are employed and there is an immense lot of concrete work on the plant

Although the exact date for the Eight District of the Grand Domain of Ohio, Knights of Pythias Knight-hood rank contest at Chillicothe, in which the lodges of Scioto and the nine other countries in this district will compete has not yet been announced, the Portsmouth Knights are going right ahead with their arrangements to participate.

The committee in charge will secure a special train, and tickets will be on sale in a day or so. It is believed that at least 400 Portsmouth Knights will make the trip.

Two candidates, A. Jones and S. M. Hyfield, were given the second degree, or Esquire Rank, at the meeting of Magnolia Lodge Monday evening.

In the "Blue" and "Red" contest the Blues came back strong from their defeat of last week and fairly wiped up the earth with the Reds to the tune of 23 to 10.

Next Monday night two candidates will be made Knights at Magnolia. Degree work will start promptly at eight o'clock and a banquet and Perfectos are scheduled for 9:30. The committee on banquet includes Meers, Arthur Flowers, George Tenor and S. E. Holman.

NONE ANSWER TO ROLL CALL

There is existence in the assembly at Columbus a condition the like of which has not prevailed since the beginning of the war. Not in the membership of the body, nor on its payroll is there the name of a single veteran of the civil war.

Few conditions so signally mark the havoc of time as this. It doesn't seem such a great while ago since the campaign of 1888. President Cleveland was up then for re-election and his veto of innumerable private pension bills inspired the opposing politicians to precipitation of a sectional issue. Never did such blood-thirsty warriors wreak such carnage as in that canvas. "Marching Through Georgia" was the answer to the feeble pipings that sought to direct attention that elections might turn upon other matters than one that had already been fought to an irrevocable determination. "The old soldier came unto his own" and even privateers were known to get some pretty fat offices that "the generals" and "the colonels" had overlooked. That is but twenty-eight years ago, but today there is not one soul who wore the blue in an awful internecine struggle that finds himself in the pay of Ohio's law-making body. The saddest thing is that time has laid its heavy burdens upon the men who marched and fought, their ranks are thinned to the vanishing point and there are few, indeed, left who can successfully take up the light duties the state would require of them and these are not inclined to leave home and go where they will have no comrades and no congenial acquaintances.

WHAT A WOMAN CAN DO

Not infrequently one hears a person pessimistically complain: "What can I go worth while; my occupation is too unimportant to amount to anything."

Norah Bortel, a slip of a girl, didn't look at it that way when she walked two miles from her home in Ayersville to preside each day as school warden in the Richland township school, near Defiance. She was not linked by the little flock of pupils, the mean one-room red school house, and the $40 per month. The building was fifty years old and so was the teaching that had prevailed therein and books that had been used "during the war" were still coned by pupils. Her thought was all of what she might do and she set about the thing. She first interested the grown-ups, she formed a community association and such enthusiasm did she put into it that she has it working like a city board of trade. The children used to bring cold victuals, now, at the noon hour hot lunches are served, every patron of the school contributing his proportionate share and happier and healthier children can be found nowhere. The curriculum has been extended until it embraces domestic science, agriculture and other studies that are of interest and particular value to country children. No she doesn't pose as a reformer, or an uplifter. Her creed is to render the best service her talents will allow.

With the death recently of General Osterhaus, in Germany, quite every newspaper carried the statement that he was the last of the division commanders on the Union side of the civil war. This is a mistake as General Wilson, of Delaware, who commanded a cavalry corps, is still living.

Service Director Calvert has grown cautious and he now informs us there is "some" water in the reservoir. Extract what comfort you may, Mr. Taxpayer and Water Consumer that the contraption is not as dry as a powder horn.

A bit of explanation as to what is meant by "legislative rest" would be helpful, in view of what is going on at Columbus.

Just between us the havoc the rains have been strewing around makes a good roads advocate shudder at possibility of the impossible.

Luther Burbank seems happiest over his latest achievement of developing a secretary into a wife, but lots of men who wouldn't recognize Science if they met him out on the highway, have done as much before him.

Congress seems to have some difficulty in developing a corrupt practices bill. Can it be possible the trouble is in getting one that won't work?

There is hope for the rest of us. 2,196 doctors died in 1916 and the health of many others isn't good.

Is the Colonel lagging and sagging? He hasn't endorsed the birth control league, so far, that we have heard of.

Every man has a different idea how the brick road building ought to be distributed this year. That is fine and all right. Shows people are beginning to understand the value of good highways.

When the service director tells us there is "some" water in the reservoir, are we to understand he has lost confidence in what will be therein an hour hence, or his foot-pocket rule?

Once a farmer locked his stable after his horse had been stolen. Not much of a comparison, perhaps, but still somehow it reminds us of our reservoir. We repaired it after the water had run out and be dinged if any water has been got back into it since.

THE "MIDDLE OF THE ROAD"

A VAST ARMY OF TOILERS

In the closing two months of 1916 the wages of over one million, one hundred thousand workers were raised. Of this number over forty thousand were in Ohio, which ranks as one of the four great industrial states. It should be borne in mind that the figures cover only the last sixth of the year. Taking the period before that almost every toiler got an increase, or what was tantamount to the same thing steady employment. If we take the almost fabulous pay, earned by both men and women in some of the strictly war plants, the increase in wages reaches staggering proportions. Yet at that it scarce keeps pace with the advance in all commodities of necessity, comfort and luxuries alike. On the whole, however, labor appears quite well satisfied and there is a marked freedom from strikes and industrial disturbances.

WHERE THEY SHINE

There are forty-five real farmers in the legislature and about half as many more scientific and theoretical agriculturists. They know exactly what they want and, what is more to the purpose, know how to get it. They have organized a compact organization and they propose to cut a deep furrow in the legislative field. For one thing they are going to stand stiff and stubborn as an Osage hedge against too free and deep incursions in the one percent limit law and for another, though not so openly expressed, they will see the vast interests of the soil get recognition, which is one other way of putting it, that the grangers get their share of the good things to be passed about.

Fine day, Monday, but at that we would rather have it in April where it belonged.

Allies win on all five fronts was the war news of Monday. Tuesday's full reports are not yet in.

Must not be so hard to break a habit after all. Two weeks have gone by and the Allies have not sent an ultimatum to Greece.

Spring is hastening on its way and soon the automobile will be in full bloom again. When was it we had proclamation from the stern prosecuting attorney of Scioto county that he was going to take relentless measures to stop speeding, or do we but dream?

O-O-M'INTYRE.

New York, Jan. 30.—It is easy to sit back and laugh at magazine editors if you just know, so to speak, the modus operandi. There for instance is Arthur Somers Roche, whose serials, "The Loot" and "A Scrap of Paper" recently ran in Mr. George Horace Lorimer's journal.

Roche dropped in to see me the other evening with Ray Robin and Jean Knott and a few other friendly spirits. The lure that attracted them was a desire to force me into a game of draw. I succumbed not only to their personal enjoyment, but to the substantial enrichment of their respective pocket-books.

It was the first time I had seen Roche since he ceased annoying editors and let them worry him. He used to be a reporter on Park Row and then he went up into Maine to write "The Loot" through a literary agency "The Loot" was sold and the editors wanted more.

Some years ago Roche sold "A Scrap of Paper" to a syndicate that publishes several magazines. The syndicate did not know that he had landed in a big magazine, and so they sold him back "A Scrap of Paper" and for double the price they paid the author.

Roche immediately sold it to the big magazine for a handsome sum. Now almost every editor is clamoring for anything he will write—and the joke of it is Roche has not written a story for a year. Whenever he is asked for a story he just dives down in a trunk and comes up with some rejected manuscript, fires it into the editor and lolls about in his toning car until the check arrives.

The sad touch in the brilliant career now looming before him is that his wife, who struggled with him in the early days, passed on before his first story was published. It was she who was his inspiration and who encouraged him—and almost starved with him—so that he could realize his ambition. He is the most modest success I have ever met—despite the fact that he boasts of nicking me in that game of draw.

A hotel proprietor in New York, who sets out to kill off tipping, has about as much chance of success as did Old King Canute when he ordered the deep blue sea to chase itself away from his royal brogans. Hear Copeland Townsend's wail. He has announced that despite signs asking patrons not to tip hat boys, the public persists in shunting dimes the brigand's way.

Some even got sore and wrote him sarcastic letters that they could tip if they pleased and intimated that it was none of his business, so there you are.

Even waiters themselves have the tipping habit. At a recent dinner a hundred extra waiters were required and a room was given over where they could check their hats and coats.

Every one of these waiters gave a tip, despite the notice that it was not required. In London there is a hotel that has banned tipping successfully, but Americans want to tip, and they'll do it, b'gosh!

Miss Anne Morgan, daughter of the late J. P. Morgan, lighted a cigarette and puffed at it unconcernedly at a banquet the other day at the Hotel Astor. Reporters snooping around printed the story—at least it appeared in the early editions, and for some reason or other it was dropped out.

Miss Morgan, it would seem, does not crave publicity. Since her father's death she has been very active in her charity work. She has grouped around her several prominent women who devote a large part of the time making things easier for the working den where working girls could go and dance and be under proper chaperonage. Later the roof fell into unscrupulous hands and was ruined.

Two little youngsters shambled penitently into the class room long after the school had opened for the morning session.

The meek little lads walked to the teacher's desk and stood looking helplessly at their feet.

"Tommy, why are you late this morning?" asked the teacher.

"I overslept myself, ma'am," began Tommy; "you see, teacher, I dreamed I was going to take a railroad trip. I just got to the station when I woke up and found it was 'way past school time."

"Freddy, why are you late?" inquired the teacher, turning to the other boy.

"Please, ma'am," replied the trembling Freddy, "I went to the station to see Tommy off."

Why They Were Late

Two little youngsters shambled penitently into the class room long after the school had opened for the morning session.

"Boys, come to my desk immediately," said the teacher. The meek little lads walked to the teacher's desk and stood looking helplessly at their feet.

"Tommy, why are you late this morning?" asked the teacher. "I overslept myself, ma'am," began Tommy; "you see, teacher, I dreamed I was going to take a railroad trip. I just got to the station when I woke up and found it was 'way past school time."

"Freddy, why are you late?" inquired the teacher, turning to the other boy. "Please, ma'am," replied the trembling Freddy; "I went to the station to see Tommy off."

KAISER'S NEXT MOVE TOWARD PEACE IS ANXIOUSLY AWAITED

Washington, Jan. 30.—The Kaiser's next move towards international peace is considered one of the critical steps in peace developments—and is anxiously awaited today.

Berlin dispatches yesterday that the German government was to send Ambassador Bernstorff a statement in answer to President Wilson's speech around the greatest speculation here. If this proposed statement is phrased in certain more agreeable terms as to Germany's present situation—in other words, if it does not "hurt" too much on victorious German arms," as an official source information indicates that Germany will support the president's peace arrangement as regards free peace movement.

Unofficial reports which have reached this country daily during the last week have led those close to the president to believe the Wilson "peace without victory" suggestion offers Germany's ruling power a big opening to come through with most "lenient" terms and still not appear to humble itself before the world.

A "peace without victory" will encourage Germany, it is believed, to offer terms squaring in many ways with those laid down by the Entente. Ad-

Gee, Cost Fred Copas $10 To Get Grip Cure, Police News

That wheezing, pounding, vacillating grip machine, which "Shank" so vividly pictured a few days ago caused the downfall of a man who in police court said his name was Fred Copas.

Fred, who was arraigned Tuesday morning, admitted that he had been drunk and disorderly, but trotted out an alibi. He was after seeing "Shank's" picture he became frightened over the prospect of a visit from the demon, he says. So he took the advice of a "friend."

His "friend" advised him to get some whiskey and quinine, mix them and drink liberally after which there would be no more grip. Drink he did.

Then everything went wrong and he developed a temperamental streak. An officer was sent to his home on Robinson avenue and Fred doubled up his fists and defied the world. The defiance did not last long for Fred was taken under the protecting wing of two policemen.

That cure for the grip cost Fred $10 in police court Tuesday.

"Not drunk" declared a man who said he was Samuel Norse, when arraigned on a charge of intoxication.

"Why the officer says that you were arrested at 1:30 o'clock this morning out on Eighth and Waller street. He says that you were drunk and leaning against a telephone pole," added Mayor Kaps.

"Yes, I was standing there but I wasn't drunk."

Samuel was fined $5 but it was suspended pending good behavior.
